THANKS

To all who entered, especially the 47 who rode.

It was an earlier start to the season than we've been used to, but in spite of serious competition from other sports - in particular rugby - we were grateful for entries from 50 riders.

At least we were lucky with the weather, which was bright and sunny, though the air felt rather sharper than the Met Office's advice of 10degC midday. Wind was Southerly and fairly light, which meant a cross wind for most of the course. Though it must have been hard work at that temperature, there were still some sparkling results - with the solo men's podium all being quicker than any of the Team Time-triallers.

Courtney Rowe's late suggestion of adding a 4-up TTT to appeal to roadies benefitted us with 16 more entries, so we're definitely repeating this offering for our next event on the same course, 2nd April.

AND THANKS ESPECIALLY
